

Christopher L. Schellman – FairWarning Solutions Advisory Board
Co-Founder and Executive Vice President SAS70 Solutions, CPA, CISA, CIA, CISSP

Chris Schellman is co-founder and executive vice president of SAS 70 Solutions, Inc. Prior to founding SAS 70 Solutions, Chris was a “Big 4” executive with responsibilities for providing a broad range of risk consulting services. Chris currently participates on over 40 SAS 70 audit projects each year and is considered one of the nation’s leading experts in the area of SAS 70 and COSO-based audits.

Chris also has also performed many information security assessments and detailed internal control consulting engagements. Chris has prior experience as both a “Big 4” financial statement auditor, as well as an internal auditor for a publicly traded financial institution. Although Chris has significant experience in multiple industries, his primary focus has traditionally been directed towards advanced technologies. Chris has performed controls reviews for companies in the ASP, certificate authority, and emerging technology markets, among many others. Chris has provided professional services for multiple Global 1000, Fortune 500 and regional companies during the course of his career.

Mr. Schellman holds a B.S. and M.S., both in accounting from the University of Tennessee.
